

The International Ethnological Food Research Group

The International Ethnological Food Research Group was founded in 1970.

The working group organizes biannual conferences, attracting a broad range of scholars from the SIEF network as well as various disciplines within Food Studies. The global diversity of food cultures is reflected at the conferences. In 2016, the 21st conference was held in Heidelberg, Germany.

A selection of peer reviewed papers from the conferences are published in book format. 18 volumes of conference proceedings have been published since the working group was founded.

Foto: Granath, Karl-Erik

Nordiska museet

PUBLICATIONS

18 VOLUMES OF CONFERENCE PROCEEDINGS

RECENT PUBLICATIONS:

Food and the Internet (2015)

The return of traditional food (2013)

FORTHCOMING PUBLICATION

(SUMMER 2017):

Places of Food Production:

Origin, Identity, Imagination

NEXT INTERNATIONAL CONFERENCE:

DATE: 26–29 SEPTEMBER 2018
(Provisional)

PLACE: KALAMATA
(PELOPONNESE), GREECE

THEME: TRADITION AND NUTRITIONAL SCIENCE IN THE
MODERN FOOD CHAIN

CALL FOR PAPERS: APRIL/MAY
2017

ORGANISERS:
PROF. ANTONA MATALAS,
HOROKOPIO UNIVERSITY OF ATHENS
DR. PHILIPPOS PAPAPOPOULOS,
PERROTIS COLLEGE,
THESSALONIKI

Chairs

Prof Dr. Patricia Lysaght, UCDelargy Centre for Irish Folklore and the National Folklore Collection.

Assoc. Prof.Dr. Hakan Jönsson, Lund University

Prof. Dr. Maja Godina Golija, University of Maribor and Institute of Slovenian Ethnology ZRC, Ljubljana, Slovenia.

Secretary

Dr. Ester Bardone, University of Tartu

Join us!

The Food Working Group invites scholars and graduate students from all over the world to join the group.

Anyone interested in the activities of the Working Group or in joining the group may contact:

Chair, Patricia Lysaght: patricia.lysaght@ucd.ie
Secretary, Ester Bardone: ester.bardone@ut.ee